Carolina Friends Emergency Consultation - March 25, 2017

"Any great change must expect opposition, because it shakes the very foundation of privilege . . . I had no idea of submitting tamely to injustice . . . I will oppose it with all the moral powers with which I am endowed. I am no advocate of passivity."

-- Lucretia Mott

Spring Friends Meeting-Snow Camp NC

Spring Friends Meeting, in Snow Camp, NC will host the CFEC, the "Carolina Friends Emergency Consultation" at the Spring Meetinghouse on Seventh Day Third Month (March) 25th , from noon to 4:45 p. m.

The CFEC will be a time when Friends in the region would be invited to gather and talk in a structured way about the times we're in, where issues of racial continued:

justice, Islamophobia, immigration, LGBTQ rights, climate change, real and fake news, degradation of voting rights, and much more are at a fever pitch.

The CFEC will be an opportunity for Friends to share what they're doing (or thinking of doing); network about projects, and have available concentrated action briefings from concerned organizations, both Quaker and others.

The goal would be to strengthen ties within the Friends community and connections among us to various efforts addressing our many urgent "challenges".

We're not intending to create a new organization, or deal with internal Quaker issues. The CFEC is a time for probing and strengthening Friends witness to the world in a time of growing tumult, starting here in North Carolina and reaching, as way opens, to the ends of the earth.

MINUTES OF THE MONTHLY MEETING FOR WORSHIP WITH ATTENTION TO BUSINESS
19th day of Second Month, 2017

The Spring Friends Monthly Meeting for Worship With Attention to Business met in the Fellowship Hall on the 19th day of the Second Month, 2017. Elizabeth Osborne, Clerk, opened with a moment of silence and centering.

The minutes of the monthly meeting for first month were read and approved, as was the financial report for the first month.

The Winter Dinner was discussed, and suggestion was made about looking at options next year for the timing of the dinner. One-half of the collection has gone to India Cane and Danny Allen, the musicians, and the other half will be split between Southern Poverty Law Center and the American Friends Service Committee.

A brief discussion was held about immigration issues, including Yosseline, Leon and Jose.

Attached to these minutes are notes from our Threshing Session held 1/29/17. Friends welcomed the time to speak frankly, the diversity of opinion, the greater sense of calm, and less desperation, given the passage of time. Friends also discussed the effectiveness of letters, emails and calls to the offices of elected officials.

Chuck Fager discussed two events upcoming:

- (1) Friends approved a meeting on 3/25/17. Carolina Friends Emergency Consultation is a new group for sharing and networking. Volunteers came forward to assist with food and organization for this initial meeting at Spring.
- (2) Friends approved a meeting on 5/2/7/17. Fellowship of Quakers and the Arts (FQA.quaker.org) will sponsor an event at Spring entitled “The Art of Fearlessness” featuring Scott Holmes and music by our own Osborne young people.

Elizabeth Osborne also reported on YM reorganization. Chuck Fager attended a meeting on 1/28/17 at Quaker Lake of the “Autonomy Group” and he will attend the 2/25/17 meeting of that group prior to the 3/4/17 Representative Body. The essence of the plan is this: The Yearly Meeting will become the North Carolina Yearly Meeting Charitable Foundation (incorporated to oversee the YM Trust Funds) and two groups, the Authority, and Autonomy groups will conduct business for the specified respective monthly meetings. Quaker Lake will become another corporation and will receive funding from the NCYM Charitable Foundation for a period of time, until it become hopefully self-sufficient.

Discussion continued about the function of the groupings and the good things that the YM did in their prior iteration. Spring has chosen not to be divided into either group, but will wait until after the next round of meetings, and until after Representative Body on 3/4/17 to decide our direction. The benefits of the Piedmont Friends Fellowship were extolled and Elizabeth will send a copy of their recent accomplishments, received from PFF.

We adjourned in time for the 11:00 am Worship Hour.

Respectfully submitted,

Cindy Perry
